

This week's poem is preparing for our Christmas Concert:-

Now light one thousand Christmas lights

Home/school task

Thank you to those of you that sent homework in. If you haven't yet, we are extending this task until Monday.

We have written reports about the planet Jupiter. We have all enjoyed finding out about planets in our solar system, stars and space. For homework we thought it would be interesting to look at star patterns in the night sky (constellations). Perhaps you can find The Plough, Orion and Cassiopeia. Choose a dry, clear night and marvel at God's wonderful creation. Perhaps you could imagine how you would feel if you were the first person to see a new star just like the shepherds did in Bethlehem so long ago. You may like to draw a picture, find out some information or write down your feelings in a poem.

Library Visits

Friday, December 9th :-

Mrs. Powell's class (final visit this term)

Friday, December 16th :-

Miss. Williams' class (final visit this term)

Don't forget! www.educationcity.com

The current homework is available until December 18th.

Try to read a book a week on Bug Club.

<http://www.bugclub.co.uk/>
Remember to read your class books as well.

Christmas Costumes

3W – Townsfolk of Bethlehem – Traditional Nativity, dressing gowns (no Spongebob or Hello Kitty), tea towels and sandals.

3/4D – Angels – Blue denim jeans, send a plain white T-shirt in, we're creating wings on the back.

4P - Stars – black trousers / leggings, send a plain black T-shirt in, we're creating glitter stars on them.

*Please send all costumes in a.s.a.p.,
by Friday 9th December at the latest.
Any queries please see the class teacher.*

